

EDITORIAL

Publication of a Dental / Medical journal involves tremendous amount of office work and proper office work can be done only through a well developed and well equipped office. That includes good secretarial staff which means availability of sufficient funds.

- 2 It is well known that medical and dental professions are very attractive, busy and very rewarding in all countries including Pakistan.
- 3 Every journal must have very good & effective review system. A highly qualified reviewer has to spend minimum 3 hours to review one article & write a report.
- 4 It is equally well known that leading values in all societies in the modern world are associated with money.
- 5 A good dental surgeon earns lot of money in 3 hours by providing dental treatment.
- 6 So to be a reviewer one must be an idealist or missionary who is willing to review without any money or at a nominal fee. And we also know that these kind of people are gradually disappearing.
